BPW and Cojali establish Joint Venture

Wiehl/Campo de Criptana, 02.09.2016 --- BPW Bergische Achsen KG of Germany and Cojali S.L of Spain have announced the foundation of a joint venture. The new company - Cojali Systems S.L. - is headquartered in Campo de Criptana (Spain).

The aim of Cojali Systems S.L is to bring together both BPW's and Cojali's competencies and skills in order to create superior products and services for the worldwide truck and trailer markets. BPW brings in its leading market position and its Europe-wide spare parts dealer network together with expert knowledge in running gear and telematics. Cojali brings in its deep knowledge in EBS diagnostic systems and aftersales EBS products.

For BPW it is a logical next step to further enhance its position as mobility partner for fleet operators and throughout the complete life cycle of the trailer.
